

Updates included in this Second Edition:

This Second edition was necessary in order to add information and medals that were omitted from the First Edition, due to lack of information or knowledge available at the time of the First Edition release.

This Second Edition still has missing information on some of the medals, i.e. issue price, weights, etc. Without having some of these medals in hand, this information is very difficult to obtain, since U.S. Mint records on these medals is basically non-existent. Much of this information has been lost to the collecting hobby.

Some of the inclusions in this addition were added to assist the collector in determining the differences between U.S. Mint struck medals and those of almost duplicate design produced by Medallion Art Co. (MACO) They are so indicated in this edition, assigned a catalog reference number and all available information has been added. Pictures and differences between the medals have been noted.

The following is a brief summary of some of the more obvious inclusions in this edition:

South Carolina Tricentennial – by MACO – Added – page 40

Stone Mountain Confederate Memorial – by MACO – Added – Page 43

U.S Weather Services Centennial – Added – Page 44

Transpo '72 – by MACO – Added – Page 49
